ETHICS LAW AND PROGRAMS DIVISION
OFFICE OF THE GENERAL COUNSEL
UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

PUBLIC SERVICE IS A PUBLIC TRUST

The role of consultants and advisors and other limited-service employees is vital to the effective functioning of the Federal Government. All employees are held to a high standard of conduct. As an employee who serves less than 130 days per 365-day period, you are considered a “special Government employee” and are subject to many, but not all, of the ethics rules applicable to Government employees who serve for longer periods of time. This document is intended to help familiarize you with those rules.

Additional information is available on the website of the Ethics Law and Programs Division at www.commerce.gov/ethics. However, it is always best to seek specific advice from an ethics official about the rules or their application to a specific situation. If you have a question regarding an ethics issue, contact the Ethics Law and Programs Division in the Office of General Counsel of the U.S. Department of Commerce at 202-482-5384 or ethicsdivision@doc.gov.

Designated Agency Ethics Official for the U.S. Department of Commerce:

David Maggi
Chief, Ethics Law and Programs Division

Alternate Designated Agency Ethics Official:

Michelle O. McClelland
Deputy General Counsel for Administration

Office of Inspector General (OIG) – Employees have an obligation to report waste, fraud, abuse, or other violations of the law. The OIG maintains a Hotline for receiving allegations of fraud, waste, abuse, and other violations of law in U.S. Department of Commerce programs or operations. To file a complaint, please visit www.oig.doc.gov, click on “Hotline & Whistleblower Protection” on the top right and then scroll down to the “Online Complaint Form.”

The Ethics Law and Programs Division does not investigate allegations of violations of law.

TOP 10 ETHICS RULES

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

rules that apply in situations when an employee's personal interests may conflict with the employee's responsibilities to the Government

1. Do not participate in a matter that will affect your financial interests (such as a company in which you own stock), unless the interest is minimal. (see pages 4-5)
2. Do not participate in any matter in which one of the parties is someone with whom you have a close personal or business relationship. (see pages 5-6)
3. Do not engage in outside employment or outside activities with non-Federal entities that have matters before your office. (see pages 6-7)
4. Do not, during the period of a job search, participate in a matter in which a prospective employer has a financial interest. (see page 12)

UNDUE INFLUENCE

rules that address situations in which someone may try to influence an employee in the performance of the employee's Government duties

5. Do not accept a gift from anyone that has an interest in Commerce activities unless an exception applies. (Common exceptions are: (1) $20 or less in value,* (2) an invitation to a "widely attended gathering" and your supervisor has approved,* (3) from a friend or relative, or (4) from a foreign government.) (see pages 9-10)
* this exception does not apply to gifts or invitations to a political appointee from a lobbying organization (unless it is a media company or a 501(c)(3) organization)
6. Do not give a gift to a supervisor or accept a gift from a subordinate unless it is: (1) for a major life event, (2) $10 or less in value, or (3) a host/guest gift. (see page 10)
7. Do not engage in political activities while on Government premises or during duty hours and do not engage in political fund-raising at any time. (see pages 8-9)

FAIRNESS

rules that address a possible misuse or the perception of misuse of an employee's Government position for personal benefit

8. Do not contact a Federal official on behalf of someone else to influence Government action, if it is a specific-party matter on which you worked as a Federal employee. (see pages 7-8)
9. To avoid an appearance of special influence after leaving Federal service, do not contact the Government on behalf of someone else unless permitted by post-employment laws. (see pages 13-14)
10. Do not use the authority of your position or your official title or Government resources or staff for personal activities, including political activities. (see pages 10-12)

FINANCIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

You have a conflict of interest when your personal interests—or the interests of those close to you (your spouse, minor child, household member, or partner)—might differ from the interests of the Government and, therefore, raise questions about actions you take as a Government employee. Ethics laws address this problem by requiring employees to disqualify themselves from working on matters creating such conflicts.

– PROHIBITED ACTIONS–DISQUALIFICATION REQUIRED –

You may not participate in a matter if agency action will affect:

- a company in which you hold:[†]
 - stock* greater than $15,000 in value,
 - stock* greater than $25,000 in value regarding a policy matter affecting the company as a member of an industry sector,
 - stock* totaling greater than $50,000 in companies that will be affected by the matter, or
 - interests held in a sector-specific mutual fund* greater than $50,000; or
 - financial interests you hold[†] that are not securities traded on a U.S. exchange, such as real estate, partnerships, securities traded only on a foreign exchange, stock options, patent rights, etc.; or
 - a company, organization, or other entity with which you are employed, serve as an officer, or serve on a governing board
- unless you obtain a conflict of interest waiver.

• ACTIONS PERMITTED IN PART–DISQUALIFICATION SOMETIMES REQUIRED •

You may participate in general policy matters, but may not participate in matters involving specific parties that will affect:

- a company in which you hold[†] stock* of $15,001-$25,000 in value,
- financial interests of a member of your household who is not a spouse or minor child, or
- financial interests covered by a conflict of interest waiver.

+ PERMITTED ACTIONS–DISQUALIFICATION NOT REQUIRED +

You may participate in matters affecting a financial interest:

- + in a stock* or bond* of $15,000 or less in value;
- + in a broadly-diversified mutual fund;*
- + in a sector-specific fund* (a fund for a specific industry sector or state or foreign country) of $50,000 or less;
- + held by an adult child (if not living in your household); or
- + covered by a conflict of interest waiver.

Waivers are generally available if you serve on a Federal advisory committee.

* if traded on a U.S. exchange

[†] or your spouse, minor child, household member, or general partner holds

– RESTRICTIONS ON INVESTMENTS AND ACTIVITIES –

If a disqualification as described above will prevent you from performing important Government duties, you should not make the investment or engage in the activity.

In addition, you may not:

- use nonpublic information from Federal employment to make an investment decision;
- if you file a public financial disclosure report (OGE Form 278e) (such as if you are a political appointee or SES member), invest in an Initial Public Offering (IPO) except in the same manner as available to members of the public generally;
- if you serve in the Commercial Service overseas, invest locally;
- if you are an NWS employee, invest in weather futures or hurricane futures; and
- if you are a USPTO employee, obtain an interest in a patent.

Applicable Law: 15 United States Code (U.S.C.) § 78u-1; 18 U.S.C. § 208; 35 U.S.C. § 4; 5 Code of Federal Regulations (C.F.R.) §§ 2640.201-2640.202; Ethics Pledge, Executive Order No. 13770, 82 Fed. Reg. 9333 (February 2, 2017); 3 Foreign Affairs Manual (FAM) Part 4120

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST BASED ON PERSONAL RELATIONSHIPS

When a party (or a party's representative) before the Government is someone with whom you have a close relationship, the assumption is that you may be biased if you were to participate in the matter. Therefore, when there is such an appearance of bias you must either disqualify yourself from participating in the matter or obtain special authorization to participate, which is available when your participation is important to the Government.

– PROHIBITED ACTIONS–DISQUALIFICATION REQUIRED –

You may not work on a matter in which one of the parties is (or is represented by):

- someone with whom you have a business or financial relationship;
- a close relative;
- an organization in which you are active;
- the employer or client (or prospective employer or client) of your parent, spouse, or dependent child;
- someone with whom you were employed or served as an agent, attorney, consultant, contractor, director, general partner, or trustee during the past year; or
- if you are a political appointee, for a period of two years after your Federal appointment, someone with whom you were employed or served as an agent, attorney, consultant, contractor, director, general partner, or trustee during the two years before your Federal appointment.

+ PERMITTED ACTIONS—DISQUALIFICATION NOT REQUIRED +

You may work on a matter in which one of the parties is (or is represented by) someone with whom you have a personal relationship if:

- + the relationship concerns:
 - a former employer or client you worked for more than one year ago (career employees) or more than two years before your appointment (political appointees),
 - an organization in which you are a member but not active (other than by attending meetings and paying dues), or
 - someone with whom your business dealings are limited to routine consumer transactions or
- + you have received special authorization (which is obtained through the Ethics Law and Programs Division) to work on the matter notwithstanding the involvement of someone with whom you have a close personal or business relationship.

Applicable Law: 5 C.F.R. §§ 2635.401–2635.403 and 2635.501-2635.503

NON-FEDERAL EMPLOYMENT AND ACTIVITIES

As a special Government employee, you are likely to have employment other than your U.S. Government position. It is important that you consider whether such non-Federal employment, or other personal activities, conflict with your Government duties. You are required to disqualify yourself from participating on matters in which an outside employer, or an organization in which you serve as an officer or board member, has a financial interest, unless you serve on a Federal advisory committee with regard to general policy matters in which your primary employer has an interest. If you think that this disqualification requirement will prevent you from performing important Government duties, please contact an ethics attorney at 202-482-5384 or ethicsdivision@doc.gov.

– PROHIBITED OUTSIDE ACTIVITIES –

You may not:

- represent someone, or receive compensation due to someone else’s representational activities (such as a partner’s), before a Federal agency or Federal court regarding:
 - a matter involving specific parties on which you participated as a special Government employee or
 - if you serve for 61-130 days, a matter involving specific parties that was before the Commerce Department during your period of service;

- engage in political activities during days of Federal service, which includes;
 - fundraising for a candidate in a partisan election (an election in which candidates are identified by party affiliation) or for a political party or Political Action Committee;
 - actively campaigning for elective office if you are running for office in a partisan election.

+ PERMITTED OUTSIDE ACTIVITIES +

You may:

- + teach and write for pay if not about the programs, policies, or operations of Commerce;
- + teach and write about Commerce programs, operations, and policies if you do not disclose nonpublic information and are not paid (but prior agency review is required in some cases and prior approval is required for noncareer SES members);
- + contact a Federal agency on behalf of your spouse, child, or parent; an estate or trust you administer; or someone for whom you have a power of attorney if you receive prior approval; another Federal employee in a personnel matter if you do not receive payment; or a Federal employee organization unless it concerns Government financial benefits, a claim against the Government, or is in the context of an administrative proceeding (see further below); and
- + practice law if you do not represent clients before a Federal agency or Federal court and do not advise on matters in which the U.S. Government is a party or has an interest.

Applicable Law: 18 U.S.C. §§ 203, 205, and 208; 5 C.F.R. §§ 2635.801–2635.809; 3 FAM Part 4120

 - a Federal employee organization unless it concerns Government financial benefits, a claim against the Government, or is in the context of an administrative proceeding;
- + contact a Federal agency or Federal court on behalf of someone else if the purpose is not to influence Government action but to seek readily-available public information or to provide required information;
- + contact a Federal agency or Federal court on behalf of yourself to influence Government action (but not on behalf of yourself and someone else, including a business you own); and
- + communicate with Congress, including a Congressional agency, on behalf of someone else to influence Congressional action.

PERSONAL GIFTS FROM OUTSIDE SOURCES

You may not accept anything of value to take action or fail to take action as a Government employee—this would be an illegal bribe. There are also some restrictions on accepting gifts from anyone with interests before the Department of Commerce or that are offered because of your Government position.

– PROHIBITED PERSONAL GIFTS FROM SOURCES OUTSIDE THE GOVERNMENT –

You may not accept a gift or invitation if it is:

- offered by someone that is regulated by Commerce, has or seeks business with Commerce, or can be affected by performance of your Government duties (unless one of the exceptions listed below as a permitted gift applies);

- + a card, plaque, or other item of little intrinsic value; or

MISUSE OF GOVERNMENT AUTHORITY OR RESOURCES

As a Federal employee you have access to equipment, services, supplies, and other resources that are paid for by the Government to promote public programs. Even the authority of your position, nonpublic information, and your Government title are considered public property.

Therefore, you must be careful to use such resources only for Government purposes or, in a few cases, personal purposes that are specifically authorized, as listed below.

 unless it is for a business or profit-making purpose, a political purpose, a lobbying activity, will result in additional charges to the Government, is discriminatory, contains sexually explicit material, would violate a law, or would bring discredit to the Government*

Applicable Law: 18 U.S.C. § 641; 5 C.F.R. §§ 2635.701–2635.705; Department of Commerce Internet Use Policy; United States Patent and Trademark Office Internet Use Policy
